Mistrial Is Declared In Robbery Case

Jury Unable To Get Verdict In Bastrop Trial

By JIMMY HATTEN Staff Writer

BASTROP — A mistrial was declared last night when a 12-man jury was unable to reach a verdict in the trial of James F. and Otis Ray Gwin, charged with the Nov. 18, 1959 robbery of the Oak Ridge Bank.

Judge David I. Garrett dismissed the jury shortly after 9 p.m. The jurors began deliberations at 2:40 yesterday afternoon, attempting to decide whether or not the brothers were guilty of the $43,050 armed robbery.

The case went to the jury after Judge Garrett had charged them to bring back one of three verdicts: guilty of armed robbery as charged, guilty of simple robbery or not guilty.

2 POINTS

Closing arguments by District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter and defense attorney Sardis Bassett focused on two main points of the three-day-old trial.

Points in question were 1, whether or not two bank employees and a store operator could positively identify the Gwin brothers as the holdup men.

2, H. as 31-year-old Otis Gwin testified Thursday, the two accused men were in Delhi at the time of the robbery.

The prosecution contended that the Gwin brothers could have robbed the bank and been in Delhi some 30 miles distant by 1 p.m. at the time Otis Gwin had stated he paid a note at the Delhi Bank.

The two could have robbed the bank shortly before noon, which was the time the robbery took place, and then could have traveled to Delhi in time to establish.

West Monroe Name Change Voting Today

Should West Monroe be rechristened? Today will tell the tale.

Balloting begins at 6 a.m. today in West Monroe's controversial city renaming election, and large factions have called for a large voter turnout.

"We want a large vote on this," Mayor Allan Norris said. "So this issue will be settled once and for all."

West Monroe's city government, represented by Norris, has taken a neutral stand on renaming.

HEAVY REGISTRATION

Approximately 5,000 persons are registered to vote before the polls close at 7 p.m.

City Clerk Harold Hill said yesterday that 16 persons had filed absentee ballots with his office. Absentee voting ended Thursday.

There are actually three ways a voter may cast his ballot. If he's satisfied, he may vote to keep the name of West Monroe. Or, if he prefers, he may vote in favor of renaming.

If a voter marks the square labeled "I favor a new name for West Monroe," he may either file his ballot as is, choose one of the suggested names or write in any name he wishes.

BALLOT NAMES

Suggested names on the ballot are Louisiana City, Olin, Riverside and Trenton. The name Madison has been discussed as a strong write-in possibility.

City attorney John McCormick explained that the election was

Korean Veep Resigns Post

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Opposition leader John M. Chang resigned yesterday as vice president of South Korea rather than serve out his term under President Syngman Rhee. His term would have expired Aug. 15.

Chang said the purpose of his move was to "ring warning bells to the Syngman Rhee government, which is drunk with power and continuing tyrannical, oppressive rule."

Chang, 60, head of the opposition Democratic party, has been virtually ignored by Rhee during his term of office.

Chang announced his resignation as the man who defeated him in the disputed March 15 elections — Lee Ki-poong — also was reported planning to step down. In South Korea, the president and vice president can be of different parties.

HEADS FOR OCEAN TARGET

Atlas Rumbles Off To Success

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — An Atlas missile rose from a new war-protected "coffin" launch pad Friday and rumbled 1,300 miles down the Pacific missile range to a target in the ocean.

The Air Force described the training operation as a "complete success."

Brie, Gen. David Wade, 1st Missile Division commander, said the "coffin" pad is "now operational."

LAUNCH

The three-day first training launch of the boxcar sized ICBM weapon from a revolutionary new horizontal hangar configuration launch pad was made by 30 officers and men scheduled to be the first Strategic Air Command missilemen at Warren AFB, Wyo.

"Coffin" is the descriptive word used by the Air Force for the launch complex. The Atlas rises from a concrete tomb that affords protection in case of nuclear attack. The missile can be raised from its coffin and fired within 15 minutes, the Air Force said.

Friday's stainless steel model D Atlas climbed from the pad at 2:39 p.m. e.s.t. With a near-deafening roar, it rode into the sky, arched west and disappeared as a pinpoint of light.

It was the first successful firing of an Atlas after two successive failures at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

FIRES ROCKET

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — The Navy Friday fired skyward a small rocket floating upright in the water, demonstrating how oceans could be launching pads.

Navy officials say the system shows intercontinental missiles could be planted in oceans, like mines, for remote firing. They expect it to be particularly valuable in launching deep space probes and large rockets of the type to be used for sending satellites into equatorial orbit.

The idea was suggested to Navy men by a soft-drink bottle bobbing vertically in the lagoon at Pacific missile range headquarters here.

Friday's demonstration for newsmen was its seventh successful test.

Floating in the lagoon, only its wooden nose cone showing, the 70-inch missile suggested to some a bowling pin, to others a flying fence post. The Navy calls it the Hydra.

A control line extended to a boat, where a man pushed a firing button.

The 150-pound device shot 70 feet into the air, the Navy estimated, then curved back down into the wind-swept lagoon.

Its Aerosoar rocket, attached to the wooden nose, contained only enough solid fuel to burn half a second and develop 390 pounds of thrust.

Judge Dismisses Trespass Counts In North Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro students demonstrating against segregated lunch counters in the South won their first major Superior Court victory in North Carolina Friday, the state where the current sit-downs began Feb. 1.

Judge Jack W. Hooks dismissed trespass charges against 3 Negro students on the basis of a 14-year-old U. S. Supreme Court ruling that a sidewalk — even on private property — is open to the public.

At the same time the Superior Court judge in Raleigh issued suspended sentences for two Negro students convicted of trespassing at a white lunch counter in a downtown variety store. Attorneys filed notice of appeal.

DIFFERENCE

The judge said the difference in the two incidents "is that one happened on the sidewalk and the other in the store."

"The law protects people in their property and it is going to continue to do so," Hooks sternly told all the students. "It is going to protect your rights."

But he added: "You are setting up a situation that is dangerous and the whole world is holding its breath."

The 43 students were arrested in February on a sidewalk in the privately owned Cameron Village shopping center at Raleigh.

At the end of the trial of four of the students, defense attorneys asked for dismissal and cited a 1946 Supreme Court decision. That decision reversed the trespass conviction of Grace Marsh for distributing Jehovah's Witnesses religious literature on the streets of a company-owned town, Chickasaw, Ala.

Hooks granted the motion and Solicitor — Prosecutor — Lester V. Chalmers decided not to prosecute the 23 other students.

Belgian Plane Crashes Killing All 35 Aboard

STANLEYVILLE, Belgium (AP) — A Belgian airliner, carrying 35 persons, crashed Friday near the top of a mountain in the jungles, killing all 35 persons aboard.

The Sobelair Belgian airliner, a DECCA bound for Elizabethville from Brussels, exploded after crashing soon after dawn.

Officials in Brussels said that all 28 passengers, except one girl, were Belgian nationals. Three missionaries and five children were on board. The plane carried seven crewmen.

The four-engine plane, named "Lualaba" after a Congo river, reportedly crashed before the crash that it was circling the equatorial forest regions over Bunia, in the northeastern Congo. Fog was blanketing the area. Reports from the scene said the plane hit only 105 feet from the summit.

It was the 13th major plane disaster of the year. A total of 501 persons have been killed in crashes in various parts of the world.

Negro Kills Policeman, Surrenders

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — A suspected rapist killed a policeman with his own gun in Stockton, Calif., stole the officer's car and fought a 15-mile running gun battle with highway patrolmen Friday.

Then he held a woman and baby girl hostage in a Modesto home while he fought another gun battle with police before surrendering Tuesday to end two hours of terrorism.

The house was riddled with bullets but the hostages — Mrs. Harry Gorman, Jr., and her 20-month-old daughter, Jennifer — escaped unharmed.

An expectant mother, Mrs. Howard Chennault, Gorman and his son, Britan, 3, were in the house when the gunman entered. But they slipped out the back way.

IDENTIFIED

The arrested man was identified as Elbert Carter, 25, a Negro who recently passed an examination for the Stockton police force.

Juvenile officer George Wochler, 44, had gone to Carter's Stockton home with a statutory rape warrant. Carter disarmed Wochler, seized his car keys and forced him to the point of his own gun to enter the car.

Wochler's body was rolled out of the car on the southern outskirts of Stockton, with two bullet wounds in the back.

The police car sped south toward Modesto, 30 miles from Stockton. Highway there, three state highway patrolmen on motor cycles spotted it and opened fire. One bullet struck Carter in an elbow. Others drilled holes in the fleeing car. Carter turned at times and fired back.

On the northern outskirts of Modesto, police shot out a tire and Carter raced on foot into the Gorman home.

Police took refuge behind trees and cars and opened a careful return fire, until Carter gave up.

Local Weather Outlook Tropic

"Just what is a scattered thundershower?" we asked the weatherman.

"Why, it's scattered," he stuttered. "That is, it's scattered. Well, anyway, you'll see this afternoon. Because we're going to have some."

Not only that, he says, we're going to have partly cloudy skies and some of the year's warmest temperatures. The high today will be around 90 degrees.

Yesterday's high was 83, the low was 62.

Skies across the state will be clear to partly cloudy. Temperatures will be warmer today, with some rain forecast here and there.

Blast Detection Possibility Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional hearings on a nuclear test ban ended Friday with an estimate that the control system now envisaged could not detect an underground blast of five times the power of the Hiroshima bomb.

Youth Admits Fatal Stabbing Of Young Girl

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A teenage boy too shy to ask a girl for a date admitted the fatal stabbing of a 13-year-old girl when she ignored him, authorities said Friday.

Howard Hultin, 16, said in a written statement he stabbed Linda Faye Riddle with a 12-inch hunting knife.

The girl was stabbed three times in the chest as she walked home from a store Thursday night with an armful of groceries.

Michael Lettuce, 16, one of two youths who witnessed the attack, was injured in the shoulder when the knife was thrown at him.

Hultin cannot be charged with murder until he reaches his 17th birthday Aug. 23. He can be charged with delinquency, Dist. Atty. Dan Walton said he has ordered delinquency charges filed.

Hultin said he "began getting the urge to go out with girls" about six months ago.

A 100-kiloton explosion would be equivalent to 100,000 tons of TNT. It would be five times as large as the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima — relatively small by current standards.

Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), who presided at four days of hearings by the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, said the testimony showed it would be several years at least before the proposed control network could detect a 100-kiloton blast set off in a deep cavity.

Holifield said it also appeared it would be impossible for several years to detect and identify a 20-kiloton blast — the size of the Hiroshima bomb — even if it was fired in the open.

The testimony showed it would be possible to improve the system, but Holifield said, "It will be a race between improved means of detection and identification as against improved means of concealing and muffling nuclear tests."

The committee heard 24 witnesses, including some of the nation's top scientists, on the technical problems involved in a test ban agreement.

The hearings took as their starting point the 130-station control network worked out by U.S., So-

TO PROBE RAILROAD ISSUES

Ike Blocks Strike By Naming Board

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower blocked a threatened national railroad strike for at least 60 days Friday by naming a special emergency board to investigate a dispute between 11 non-operating unions and the major carriers.

The National Mediation Board paved the way for the president's action earlier this week when it had been unsuccessful in efforts to arbitrate the dispute.

Named as chairman of the emergency board was John T. Dunlop, Harvard University professor and a veteran labor arbitrator.

Other members are Benjamin Aaron of the Institute of Industrial Relations, University of California, Los Angeles and Arthur N. Senglin, a Wayne County, Mich., judge.

The emergency board will report within 30 days on its investigation of the dispute which involves wages, cost of living adjustments, and health and welfare plans.

Meantime, the unions are prohibited from walking out under the National Railway Labor Act without agreement of both parties. This prohibition runs for an additional 30 days after the board reports.

When the mediation board abandoned its settlement efforts after failing to break the prolonged deadlock, it opened the way for a nationwide strike May 15 unless Eisenhower intervened.

The 11 unions involved are composed of telegraphers, shop craftsmen, signalmen and others who do not actually operate trains.

Union leaders expected Eisenhower to take Friday's action. The mediation board usually recommends creation of an emergency board if it believes a rail dispute will deprive any section of the nation of essential transportation service.

Heads Eye East-West Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reviewed East-West problems with Charles de Gaulle, after giving the French president a ceremonial reception Friday, and reported afterward it was a "very good conversation."

A spokesman for the tall French soldier-statesman said he also was pleased with the initial 70-minute talk in their four-day round of strategy conferences.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower and De Gaulle, meeting as friends from war time, ranged over quite a number of topics. He did not identify them.

The two leaders met in Eisenhower's White House office, flanked only by their interpreters.

"Vive De Gaulle," spectators shouted as the solemn-faced French leader drove back to Blair House across the street from the White House after his initial talk.

Earlier, on his arrival from Canada, the French president had received a warm, friendly welcome by some 200,000 cheering, flag-waving admirers.

Hagerty said De Gaulle and Eisenhower would resume the formal phase of their pre-summit review Sunday and Monday. Saturday's schedule will concentrate on a De Gaulle news conference which is to be televised east to coast for American viewers.

De Gaulle was reported ready to urge a stern no-concession approach in dealing with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on the pressing Berlin problem.

In advance of his initial talk with Eisenhower, diplomatic aides reported De Gaulle felt certain Khrushchev would not precipitate a major Berlin crisis if the Western Allies rejected his demands that they get out.

De Gaulle came to the White House from a 20-minute visit to Arlington National Cemetery to honor American war dead.

Some 2,000 spectators applauded.

Dedication Of Interstate 20 Section Today

Louisiana's first completed phase of I-20, Uncle Sam's coast-to-coast super highway, will be officially opened to traffic at Choudrant today.

Dedication ceremonies conducted by the Department of Highways will officially open the new highway, according to District Engineer Wayne H. Hucksby.

Some 7.4 miles of I-20, recently completed between Choudrant and Ruston, will be opened after this morning's ribbon-cutting event.

Oscar Gundry, highway board chairman, of Church Point will deliver the principal address.

A motorcade then will drive over the big four-lane structure from Choudrant to Ruston while the Ruston High School band directed by Oscar Barnes, plays, "When the Saints Come Marching In."

State highway officials, as well as city officials from the Twin-Cities and Shreveport, are scheduled to attend the ceremonies.

Mayor T. C. Beasley, Ruston, will participate also.

The Choudrant-to-Ruston phase of the program was the first completed in Louisiana. In this state, I-20 will stretch across north Louisiana, from Vicksburg to Texas, while a sister section will cross through south Louisiana.

Last night, highway officials, engineers and the press preceded today's event with a dinner party here at the Holiday Inn.

OVER TWO MILLION MEMBERS

Lutheran Groups Merging Into One

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — American Lutherans, who avow mutual beliefs but who have maintained a multiplicity of separate denominations through the years, Friday combined three of them into one.

It's The American Lutheran Church.

It was born here in a moving convocation of prayer and pageantry, climaxing more than a decade of planning, and heralding a swing to unification among the country's functionally most fragmented wing of Protestantism.

Moving quickly into initial administrative matters, the new church elected the Rev. Dr. Fredrik A. Schiotz, 58, of Minneapolis to be president. He was named on a third ballot.

The merger is the first in the century to bring together Lutherans of different national backgrounds—an element that gave rise to most of the original divisions. It creates a Church of 2½ million members.

Church leaders from around the world sent greetings, hailing the step as strengthening the cause of the Gospel, and as a prelude to still wider unity among the nation's eight million Lutherans.

"What we have here is a gathering up of those that were ripe for the step at the present," Dr. Schiotz told a news conference. "I see it as one step in something greater."

High point of the ceremonies came when presidents of the three separate denominations, standing before a candlelit altar, joined hands, while the 1,000 representatives bowed in prayer: "We beseech Thee, good Lord . . . give to Thy Church a new vision of her glory, new wisdom and fresh understanding, the revival of her brightness."

The merger combines the 1,134,566-member Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Norwegian background; the 1,034,377-member United Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Danish origin.

Dr. Schiotz, a Chicago-born former school teacher, veteran missionary executive and church administrator, has been president of the largest of the groups, the ELC, since 1954. It has contributed 10 of 13 departmental executives of the new Church.

Editors: PLS note that the 2nd XI, De Gaulle was incorrectly. In the election, Dr. Schiotz led from the start, over the Rev. Dr. Norman Menter, of Detroit, an ALC leader, and the Rev. Dr. William Larsen, of Blair, Neb., president of the UELC.

The meeting here opened with a two-hour-long Holy Communion service at Central church.

Then, led by flag-bearers, acolytes and berobed dignitaries the delegates moved in a triple procession to Municipal Auditorium a block away. Banners lined either side of the street, under a bright sun.

Dr. Larsen, head of the joint union committee that has worked to years in hammering out plans for the merger, presided over the founding session.

The union sets the pace for another one in the making, a four-way merger of the Augustana, American Evangelical and United Lutheran churches and the Synodical Conference, scheduled for 1962, with a total membership of more than three million.

This step will bring 95 per cent of American Lutherans, previously scattered in eight denominations, into three large bodies — the Church formed today, the one set for 1962, and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

It also will reduce the total number of Lutheran denominations to 11, a far cry from the 1820's when there were more than 70 of them.

Despite their organizational divisions, Lutherans are almost uni-

CAIRO (AP) — Huge crowds gave President Sukarno of Indonesia a thundering welcome as he arrived Friday by plane from Australia on his world tour.

Airline Is Facing Investigation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Capital Airlines Inc., threatened with the loss of its prized fleet of British Viscount turbo-prop planes, appeared Friday to have run out the string.

The nation's fifth largest air carrier, weathered in by heavy financial losses and unable to ante up $34 million it owes for its 60 Viscounts, faces a broad investigation by the Civil Aeronautics Board that could bring a merger or at the worst a break up of the line.

Thursday Capital reported a $5,415,738 loss for the first quarter as against a $9,36,878 deficit in the 1959 quarter. Operating revenues slipped to $23,565,412 from $28,565,500.

SUGGEST MEETING In an apparent last-ditch effort to head off foreclosure on its air- lines the company said its chief officers wanted to meet at the earliest practicable date with the officers of its creditor, Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd.

The management of Capital had hoped to stave off the day of reckoning by obtaining federal subsidies. But its request last month for immediate relief to be followed by $13 million in annual subsidy payments was rejected by the CAB.

Hefty subsidies in the past have failed to solve the airline's chronic financial plight. It received about $4,100,000 in federal funds in 1947 but still ended the year with an $880,000 loss. Even with an additional $4,900,000 in mail payments the following year it managed to clear only $124,000.

HAS BEEN OFF SUBSIDIES The carrier has been off subsidies for the past eight years.

In its report the CAB noted that Capital has fallen into "serious economic straits" beginning with 1955 when it started acquiring Viscounts and flying new routes granted by the board.

The airline's traffic business in- creased at a rate more than double the industry average, the CAB said, but losses continued to pile up. Capital has been given 45 days to file detailed reports on its operations and problems and its future plans and recommendations for CAB action.

POLITICAL DOUBLE STANDARD

Stevenson Talks To U.S. Editors

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, with a mild dig at what he called "The Republican partisanship of the press," told the nation's editors Friday they must not use a political double standard.

"The government, the ins, must be measured by the same standards of responsibility as the opposition, the outs," said Stevenson, twice a loser as a Democratic candidate for the presidency.

"The press must call 'em as it sees 'em, not as it would like to see 'em."

Stevenson took part in a panel discussion of "The Role of the Opposition," a feature of the American Society of Newspaper Editors' meeting.

He was joined on the panel by leaders of Britain's and Canada's "outs"—Hugh Gaitskell, head of the British Labor party, and Lester Pearson, chief of Canada's Liberal party.

In the past, the Democrats have been fond of complaining the press is inclined against them. Stevenson voiced the same complaint—although he got around it by proclaiming he was going "to resist any temptation to berate you for unequal treatment of Republicans and Democrats in the news."

He told his editor audience he wanted to "exploit today's mood party in power must credit it with good faith, he said."

By reminding you that a responsible press can be a great help to the opposition by giving it an adequate hearing."

And Stevenson declared that if the people of the United States are complacent and unconcerned about the health of this country's system, "the press must share the blame."

Canada's Pearson steered clear of any allusions to U.S. politics and the press, confining himself to general remarks.

He counseled the editors to keep the spotlight closely on politicians of both the ruling and opposition parties.

But Pearson advised them never despise or ignore the politician, saying: "Whatever he may do, or say, the politician is in general the reflection of those who choose him."

"So if the reflection is one that invites concern about the plight of democracy, we should blame it on ourselves."

Pearson agreed with Stevenson that without an effective, vigorous probing opposition a modern democracy cannot survive.

But the opposition must maintain a responsible attitude, and he wanted to "exploit today's mood party in power must credit it with good faith, he said."

RESCUE MISSION means food and a bed for the night for unemployed transients in Twin Cities. (Photo by Jim St. Julien)

Food, Shelter For Homeless At Mission

"Food and Shelter for the Forgotten Man" is the slogan of the Twin Cities Rescue Mission, newly organized and in operation here since April 1.

The mission, established about two years ago by Rev. C. F. Henry, will have headquarters at 515 Ouachita Avenue, Monroe. Rev. Henry retired recently due to ill health.

The new operation will expand the facilities of the Calvary Christian College Gospel Mission. Unemployed transients passing through the Twin Cities are provided with supper, bed and breakfast for up to three days within a 33-day period.

The mission is under the supervision of a board of directors and an advisory board, both consisting of city government officials, church organizations and businessmen in Monroe and West Monroe.

Church services are conducted daily at the mission at 7:30 p.m. weekdays and at 3 p.m. Sundays. A minister who has worked closely with the new organization said the mission during the first week of April served 348 meals, provided 129 beds, gave 31 persons shoes and clothing, hospitalized two men, secured one permanent and two temporary jobs and converted five persons during preaching services.

The board of directors of the organization requested that any contributions from individuals or groups towards the operating expenses of the mission be sent to the Ouachita Avenue address.

Pilgrims

In medieval times, pilgrims walked along the route to worship at the shrine of Thomas A. Beckett, murdered archbishop of Canterbury.

Pay Plan For Prison Is Okayed

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Senate gave its approval Friday to a plan to pay penitentiary prisoners for work they perform.

The Senate voted unanimously for the bill by Sen. W. B. Alexander of Boyle to authorize the Parchman prison to pay convicts one cent an hour.

Sen. Bill Jolly of Columbus, who handled the measure on the Senate floor, said the bill would provide an incentive for prisoners to stay out of trouble, and would give them funds for use when they are released.

"They don't give him his transportation home, now," Jolly said. "All they get is a khaki suit, a pair of shoes and $10."

Each prisoner would be permitted to draw half the money he earns each week and would leave half of it in his account. Prisoners would have to behave while at Parchman to be qualified for payment for their work.

Before adjourning until 2 p.m. Monday, the Senate invited a conference with the House to seek agreement on a bill to authorize school trustees to require polio vaccinations of children.

Sen. Hayden Campbell of Jackson said members of the Christian Scientist Church wanted to be exempt from its provisions and "it is agreeable to the state Health Department."

Campbell said 41 states now make provisions to exempt Christian Scientists, who generally do not use doctors because of religious beliefs, from such statutes.

The House and Senate passed varying versions of the bill, setting up the need for a conference.

The Senate also passed penitentiary bills to enable the prison to receive donations for chapels, to revamp the parole board to require one member come from each of the three Supreme Court districts and the fourth from the state at large, and require the at-large member to live at Parchman.

Lawmakers took up no controversial legislation because of light attendance at the unusual Friday meeting, but cleared 34 measures from the calendar.

The House did not meet and will also return Monday afternoon. Among the 34 bills passed were measures to:

Appropriate $302,000 to operate vocational rehabilitation services for the blind in the next biennium. Appropriate $558,300 to the department of audit.

Appropriate $400,000 for nursing school operations.

Permit sale of seven acres formerly used as a rifle range by Vicksburg national guardsmen.

Permit the state to accept donations for the livestock collection at the State Fair Grounds here.

Permit the Probation and Parole Board to raise from 10 to 15 the number of probation officers it employs to supervise prisoners on probation.

Prohibit Communists and ex-convicts from holding labor union offices.

5 Outgoing Jurors Will Attend Meet

Four of Ouachita Parish's 16 Police Jurors will not attend the Louisiana Police Jury Association Convention in Baton Rouge tomorrow and Monday. A fifth juror may not be able to attend.

Two jurors have illness in the family. Two others are sick. Mrs. A. E. Montgomery, wife of the ward 10 juror, is recuperating in St. Francis hospital, following an operation. Mrs. W. J. Vinson, wife of ward two's juror, is ill. Both jurors will not attend for this reason.

C. A. Kincaid, ward four, is ill, won't attend. Police Jury President M. W. Montgomery of ward three also is sick at home, and may not attend. Ward eight juror A. R. Sims doesn't plan to go.

That leaves 11 jurors still scheduled to go to the two-day convention. In addition, Miss Nell Cheek, the jury's Secretary-Treasurer, her assistant Mrs. Joyce McNabb, and road superintendent Hardy Wells plan to attend. Earlier this year, the jury budgeted $100 per parish official who attends the convention. The bill probably will be $1400. Jury officials commented yesterday that each of the 64 Police Jurors in Louisiana pay the expenses for their delegates to attend the yearly conventions. This appropriation is allowed by state law, they added. Of the 14 slated to attend, five are outgoing jurors, who will attend their last jury meetings in May. These are: Robert W. Irby, ward three; Ollie C. Carter, and Percy Nichols, five; W. F. Golsen, six; and G. H. Owens, nine. Other jurors, who were re-elected for a new term, and who will attend, are: E. G. Studdard, ward one; L. B. Pettit, three; Tom Hicks, five; W. O. Roberts, seven; L. U. Fourmy and Irvin W. Kilpatrick, 10.

Ouachita Scout Leaders Will Attend Meeting

Leaders of the Ouachita Valley Council are scheduled to attend the annual meeting of Region 5, Boy Scouts of America, at Jackson, Miss., Monday through Tuesday. Several national Scout leaders will highlight the meeting with addresses, according to J. W. Webster Jr., council president, of Monroe.

Scheduled to attend from this council are: Dr. Benard Waxman, Baxter Deal and John Blue, all of Lake Providence; Donald B. Fiske, Oak Grove; Henry Butts, Major W. E. Person and Gordon Wiggins, all of Waterproof. Webster, James W. Moore, council vice-president, Scout Executive Jack E. Pankey, Alex Lea, Donn M. Kurtz and Frank McDermott, all of Monroe. Buddy Johnson, District Scout Executive, West Monroe; Floyd B. James, Buddy Kendall, Dr. Marvin Green and Jimmy Carter, all of Ruston.

Engineers Have 2-Way Radio System

Monroe residents who need to have their house plumbing or construction inspected now have the "service at their fingertips," with a new two-way office-car radio service installed by the city Engineers Office.

A short wave radio was installed in the office and two inspectors cars yesterday, according to Dale B. Martha who issues building and plumbing permits.

A tall aerial was installed on top of the St. John Street building, to allow communication between Martha and cars used by Building Inspector William Hines and Plumbing Inspector Tommie Semmes.

"It will increase service," said Martha. Lots of times, homeowners call in for an inspection, but they have had to wait until the inspectors get back to the office late in the day," he explained. "Sometimes the inspection could not be made until the next day."

"The inspectors leave here in the morning with a list of places to be inspected. Now, when a call comes through, I can contact them over the car radio. If they're near the home which just called they can inspect within a short time," he added.

Hodge Couple Condition Good Following Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Cannady of Hodge were reported in satisfactory condition last night after being injured in an automobile accident early Friday. Authorities said the mishap occurred just west of Calhoun as the couple was returning to Hodge from Monroe. Mrs. Cannady apparently lost control of the car on a curve, causing the vehicle to overturn.

Both were thrown from the car. They were taken to St. Francis hospital in Monroe, where their condition was declared satisfactory.

Funeral Sunday For Victim Of Heart Attack

C. L. Freeman, 63, was found dead at his residence, 315 Wilson St. Monroe, early Friday morning. Ouachita Parish Coroner Dr. John P. Burton stated that a heart attack was the cause of death.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, in the chapel of Hixon Brothers Funeral home. Burial will be in Hall cemetery, south of Monroe on the Wimboboro Road.

Mr. Freeman was an employee of the Frances Hotel. He had been a Monroe resident for 18 years, and was a native of Eudora, Ark.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Wilma Freeman, Monroe; two sons, Thomas E. Freeman, Monroe and Cephus L. Freeman, Ruston; one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Thorp, Puerto Rico; two brothers, Ben Freeman, Monroe; and Bill Freeman, Hazelhurst, Miss.; and five grandchildren.

Hedy Lamarr Divorce Is On The Way

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A $300,000 property settlement paved the way Friday for W. Howard Lee to receive an uncontested divorce from actress Hedy Lamarr.

Judge Ben Woodall of Domestic Relations Court granted the divorce after hearing Lee testify.

Lee said he would make a physical and financial wreck of me. My health deteriorated. I was a nervous wreck."

Miss Lamarr was not in the courtroom. She refused repeatedly to leave her Beverly Hills, Calif., home and come here for the trial and pretrial conferences.

"One time she went to a Houston jeweler and tried to charge $25,000 in merchandise," Lee said. "Then she went to another merchant and bought about $40,000 in jewels and furs. I had no knowledge of this. I had been admonishing her that we could not afford this. She knew my position."

Lee later said: "She would become violent to the extent she would try to strike me. She very frequently called me naughty and ugly names."

Miss Lamarr spent too much money, hit him and called him what he termed "naughty" names. "She would become violent," he said. "I felt she would make a physical and financial wreck of me. My health deteriorated. I was a nervous wreck."

State Federal Rights

At least as far back as 1954 most of us have looked with trepidation on the acts of the United States supreme court and, in the interim, have come to the conclusion that the present supreme court is probably the worst in the history of this country. A good deal of its degeneration dates back to the appointment of Earl Warren as chief justice.

The Virginia commission on constitutional government, however, has distributed a series of vital statements on state and federal relations which shows that this is not the first time that state's rights have been endangered. This is shown in the Kentucky-Virginia resolutions which clearly set up the rights of the states as opposed to those of the federal government. A foreword says:

"In the summer of 1798, a Federalist-dominated congress of the United States passed three laws relating to aliens. These were harsh and tyrannical laws, politically motivated by a desire to control flow of European immigrants who might be attracted to the Jeffersonian standards. One of the statutes permitted the president, on his unchecked whim, to deport any alien he alone judged 'dangerous to the peace or safety of the United States.'"

"These were accompanied by an act still more oppressive, the sedition act of July 14, 1798. In the very teeth of the first amendment's command that congress pass no law abridging the freedom of the press, the congress passed a law making it a criminal offense for any person to print 'any false, scandalous and malicious writings against the government of the United States.' The law prohibited any publication that might 'incite the hatred of the good people of the United States' against congress or the president. It was made unlawful for anyone even to urge opposition to any act of the president or to urge defeat of any act of congress."

"By contemporary standards, the sedition act especially must be viewed as an incredible offense against the constitution. Yet the supreme court justices of that day — Paterson, Chase and Bushrod Washington — repeatedly upheld the law, and saw that men were sentenced to prison for its violation. The light of individual freedom, raised at such sacrifice only a few years before, burned terribly dim. Neither the president, nor the congress, nor the supreme court comprehended the evil here afoot."

"In this crisis of constitutional government, Jefferson and Madison arranged for adoption of the famed Kentucky and Virginia resolutions. Here, the general assemblies of the two states enunciated in clear and vigorous language the right and duty of the states to intercede against a palpable and dangerous violation of the constitution in order 'to arrest the progress of evil.'"

A part of the Kentucky resolution, which was similar to the Virginia resolution, said:

"Resolved that the several states composing the United States of America are not united on unlimited submission to their federal government; but that by compact under the style and title of a constitution for the United States and of amendments thereto they constituted a general government for special purposes, delegated to that government certain definite powers, reserving each state to itself, the residuary mass of right to their own self-government; and that whenever the general government assumes undelegated powers, its acts are unauthorized, void, and of no force: That to this compact each state acceded as a state, and is an integral party, its co-states forming as to itself the other party; That the government created by this compact was not made the exclusive or final judge of the extent of powers relegated to itself; since that would have made its discretion and not the constitution, the measure of its powers; but that as in all other cases the compact among parties having no common judge, each party has an equal right to judge for himself, as well as infractions as of the mode and measure of redress.

"That powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited to it by the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people."

Our present government, including the executive branch, congress and particularly the supreme court, seems to have forgotten that the federal government possesses only the powers relegated to by the states. It takes the position that the federal government is paramount. We have almost returned to a federalist government.

Added to this is the fact that the supreme court has assumed unto itself the right of "divine" determination of the rights of all the people, regardless of states' rights or federal rights.

What we need now is some sort of uprising against federalization, such as that which occurred when Kentucky and Virginia adopted their famous resolution.

Changes in our constitution are effected by a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress and by a three-fourths vote of the states.

Since the federal government possesses only the rights conferred upon it by the states, there should be some recourse if the federal government exceeds these rights. Apparently, our only recourse is the supreme court, which now not only is federal but is socialistic and ideological, rather than a judicial body which makes decisions on the basis of the constitution, law and precedent.

One of the most powerful ways to give the states an effective method of keeping the federal government from taking rights not assigned to it might be to enact a constitutional amendment allowing a two-thirds vote of the states to override any act of any branch of the federal government. This would leave the power within the hands of the states, as was originally intended.

Starlings And Pigeons

Every city, town and community has its problems and its nuisances. Quite a number, but not all, of the nuisances must be suffered because the people can't agree.

In New York, Memphis and many other cities there are constant and unrelenting campaigns against pigeons, with many residents practically ready to take up arms to get rid of them. One New York writer says, "From the mail I receive I gather that every town and city in the nation has a pigeon problem, largely because it also has a quota of sentimental simpletons who cannot be restrained by reason or law from feeding these filthy, proliferating pests." In Memphis, the city administration violates its own law. An ordinance says no fowl shall be kept within the city limits but the city government nullifies this law by refusing to get rid of the pigeons and by making it against the law to shoot, kill or trap them.

Starlings are the big problem in Shreveport and that city has been unable to keep them away from the court house lawn despite an apparent unanimity of opinion on the part of its citizens.

Every town has its dogs—or so it seems. Jackson, Miss., wanted to cut the dog population to one per family but the human howl exceeded that of the canines. If a radio or TV blares loudly at 2 a.m. it is matter for the police but a dog can keep a neighborhood awake for hours and anyone who objects is the town's "one old grouch."

"Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn."

Many Place America Last

Advertisement In New York Times Announces Organization Of 'Fair Play For Cuba Committee'

On April 6, an advertisement appeared in "The New York Times" announcing the organization of a "Fair Play for Cuba Committee." This was to have been expected because there are always committees about everything and there are always "America Lasters." It was also not surprising that this committee could immediately afford to spend $5,000 for an advertisement in "The New York Times." I suggested that the money came from the Cuban government, those who signed it were unregistered foreign agents which is an offense; if the signers paid for it themselves out of their own pockets, then it is a just expression of opinion to which everyone is entitled.

The co-chairmen of this committee were announced to be Waldo Frank and Carleton Beals and one was entitled to believe that these writers organized it and were responsible for it. However, into my hands came a letter from Carleton Beals to Robert B. Taber of the Columbia Broadcasting System, who was apparently organizing the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee." It was Taber who invited Beals to become a co-chairman of this committee. Beals' letter is dated April 5 and may, the Post Office being what is, not have reached Taber in time. Also in a postscript, Beals asked Taber to show him the proposed advertisement as it is to be run. From this, it is to be inferred that Taber was the mechanic of this "Fair Play for Cuba Committee." Beals did not see the advertisement until it appeared in print.

Beals' letter to Taber is most interesting, particularly a paragraph which I have his permission to reproduce here:

"Two things I would have to be reassured about: (1) That no Communist is part of the committee or is asked to become a sponsor. This would blow the whole thing out of the water. (2) That funds are from voluntary contributions and that no money is derived from the Cuban government or their representatives, either directly or indirectly."

Of course, as the advertisement was published one day after Beals addressed his letter to Taber, the former could not have received a reply from the latter. However, I telephoned to Carleton Beals on April 13 and he had not by that date received such an assurance as he requested. In fact, such an assurance could not have been given unless certain persons took steps to erase their life history from the record.

As for the funds coming from Cuba, the precise data on that subject cannot be found except under oath by some authority possessing the power of subpoena. My belief is that those who signed this advertisement would prefer to list the contributors to its payment in order to vitiate the suspicion that it came from Castro. Men have a right to be suspicious, and wise men, if they have nothing to hide, make full disclosure of the facts. Certainly those public officers which deal with such matters know who paid for the advertisement and where the cash came from.

I must confess that I do not know who Robert B. Taber is, but the Beals letter to him shows that there was an organizing committee, that Beals did not attend any of its sessions and that Beals wanted to know what was being done and that therefore he wrote to Taber as the man who could tell him.

What is the importance of all this? Well, there is much anti-Castro agitation in this country; there is a pro-Castro propaganda. Those opposed to Castro do not represent a foreign power; they represent an American reaction to a revolutionary government which imperils the United States.

Those who favor Castro may be honest men and women who conscientiously believe that it is to the best interest of the United States that a government antagonistic to the United States should have come into existence 90 miles from Miami; that it is satisfactory that that government has made a deal with Soviet Russia; that it is satisfactory that American property in Cuba be seized and sequestered by the Castro government and that out of the Cuba revolutionary forces develop disorder throughout the Caribbean and imperil the Panama Canal.

On the other hand, some of those who so hold may be employed by Castro; they may have let themselves out for hire. We should know the facts.

When I Was Your Age
"When I was your age" is a phrase that is said... To every new generation... And nothing has lesser effect on it... No matter what explanation... And there is an obvious reason for that... For habits and customs must change... As knowledge of life with its struggle and strife... Expands to a wider range... "When I was your age we were not concerned... So much with receiving as giving... There was little on hand and a smaller demand... For the comforts of luxury living... And so it's pointless for people to say... "When I was your age, and so forth"... For the times have changed and today we have... So many more ways to go forth."

Hurting Unborn

Report Shows Babies Born To Smoking Mothers Weigh Less

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My wife is a heavy smoker—at least two packs a day. I smoke moderately myself, so I'm in no position to tell her to stop. But she is pregnant and I wonder how cigarettes might affect our unborn child.—Sincerely, Mr. X., New York.

Answer: I know of no statistics which indicate actual detrimental effects on the children of smoking mothers. By that I mean, any effects on the vital organs or future welfare of the child. However, I have just come across an interesting report made by Dr. C. R. Lowe in the British Medical Journal.

He obtained the smoking histories from 2,042 pregnant mothers who were delivered in Birmingham maternity hospitals. It was found that the mean weight of infants of mothers who smoke regularly throughout pregnancy was six ounces less than that of infants of mothers who never smoked during pregnancy. He concluded, therefore, that smoking during pregnancy retards foetal (the unborn baby's) growth. ICE BAG TO STOP RAPID HEART ACTION

A quite common and fearsome experience is to have the heart suddenly begin to race — and sometimes keep it up for hours or days. The medical term for it is Paroxysmal auricular tachycardia. This may occur in the normal heart as well as in diseased hearts. There is a pounding in the chest, anxiety and weakness.

Doctors have a number of successful methods to overcome this rapid action. Sometimes it is effectual to press on the carotid sinus (a large nerve center in each side of the neck — pressing on only one side at a time). At other times we can slow the heart rate by giving digitalis or sedatives. Sometimes the attack is abruptly stopped by inducing vomiting in the patient.

Here is a simple method the patient might try until the doctor comes. Place an ice collar over the neck. In a recent report of one case (which is of course not a sufficient test of how it will do in other similar cases) Dr. Randolph Murphy of Norfolk, Arkansas found excellent results. The ice bag probably acts by indirectly stimulating the nerves that slow the heart.

In today's Health magazine, Alton Blakeslee makes a digest report on the work of Dr. C. S. Blumel, a Colorado psychiatrist in reference to the problem of stammering.

"The child in the beginning is inclined a bit to halt, repeat, even stutter. Any lasting anxiety, as from family quarrels, a harsh teacher, or bullying playmate can produce problems and stammering. In helping children learn to speak Dr. Blumel advises speaking slowly, clearly, patiently, and trying to find causes of stresses if the child appears excitable or nervous."

It is important for parents to know this. I receive many letters from anxious parents who have a stammer — problem in the home. Sometimes the fault lies within themselves. If they can't solve it, I believe that they should not delay too long before calling in expert help.

Drop In Coffee

Slump Is Causing Sleepless Nights At State Department

WASHINGTON — Coffee is causing sleepless nights at the State Department.

The insomnia is induced by a plunge in the world price of coffee — an economic landslide that could throw our relations with Latin America into turmoil.

"The drop in coffee prices is a peril to the free world," Roy S. Rubottom, assistant secretary of state for Inter-American Affairs, said in a recent interview.

"Economic trouble in Latin America is an invitation to the Soviets to intensify their efforts at economic penetration of our hemisphere."

A cup of coffee generally costs a dime. Ten years ago it cost five cents. Yet during that same time the price of coffee has slumped 20 per cent. The higher price per cup is explained by rising restaurant operation costs.

The overall price fall is blamed on over-production, or "current imbalance between world production and consumption."

What happens when the world price of coffee goes down, even slightly? A drop of one cent per pound means a loss to producing countries of $30,000,000 per year.

This in turn means closed-down plantations and unemployment in 14 nations across the Caribbean and South America.

Last year the United States purchased about 65 percent of its coffee from these nations. In volume, this amounted to 2.7 billion pounds, an all-time record. In dollar value, these imports represent the lowest receipts to producing countries in 12 years.

This is where we, our jobs, and maybe our security, come in.

With the price drop in coffee, Latin American earnings from coffee shipments to the United States have fallen from $1.4 billion in 1954 to $975 million last year. As a result, Latin American hasn't got enough money to buy goods we make here.

But the standard of living is rising throughout Latin America. People want more and more things they don't make in their own countries.

Many Latin Americans are for the first time using modern appliances — many are wearing their first shoes. Thus and other living quarters are improving and education is on the march. The population is exploding.

At last count, the coffee-producing countries purchased 20 per cent of all products exported from the United States. They gave employment here to 370,000 persons. A total of 1,041 communities in the United States were directly engaged in commerce with these countries.

The $2.7 billion worth of goods exported to the 14 coffee-growing nations included $63,000,000 in heavy machinery, $517,000,000 in vehicles, and $40,000,000 in grain, vegetable and animal products.

All of this has led to another complaint by coffee producers: the cup of coffee poured in the United States today just isn't as good as it used to be.

If it were better, it was suggested, the United States would be buying more coffee.

Sr. Miguel Angel Cordere, Jr., is the president of the International Coffee Agreement, an organization interested in selling more coffee. He spoke recently at a meeting of coffee growers in Florida.

"If you were still enjoying the full-flavored cup of 10 years ago," he said wistfully, "you would have to import another six million bags."

Coffee experts claim that two and 1/2 gallons of water should be used for each pound of coffee. But they said as much as four gallons are being used in the United States today, while the national average is three gallons.

LeBlanc Clear

Of Indictment

On Tax Charge

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Former state Sen. Dudley J. LeBlanc, originator of Hadacol medicine, Friday was cleared of a federal indictment charging him with evasion of $38,000 in income taxes for 1950.

U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert Christenberry dismissed the indictment under which LeBlanc was to have gone on trial next Monday.

Defense Atty. Robert Weinstein asked the dismissal on grounds that records of the now defunct LeBlanc Corp., which made Hadacol, had been destroyed under federal court orders in New York following bankruptcy proceedings. He contended lack of the records made it impossible for LeBlanc to adequately defend himself.

Daily Devotional

For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith; and much people was added unto the Lord. — Acts 11:24.

Though Barnabas stood in the shadow of Paul, he was a great soul in his own right. He had the cause of Christ at heart and sought no preferment for himself and lost no dignity in being merely an assistant to Paul. "A good man!" How often we hear these words — and how often we wonder how true they are. We must remember that goodness comes through faith in Christ and love for others — and that faith and love is always expressed in service.

Father, help us to be truly "good" through the acceptance of Christ and service to our fellowmen. In His name we pray. Amen.

Tiros I Shows Form Of Clouds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said Friday the experimental weather satellite Tiros I has revealed an unexpectedly large degree of organization in the cloud systems over much of the earth's surface.

The Tiros I satellite has made about 300 orbits since it was launched on April 1, and has taken about 7,000 pictures with its two television cameras.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, Weather Bureau chief, told a news conference that the most striking patterns brought to light are spiral cloud formations associated with large storms.

Some of these are as much as 1,500 miles in diameter, he said.

They have been observed in the United States, the North Atlantic, the North and South Pacific oceans, and the Indian Ocean.

Radar observations have shown that tropical hurricanes are characterized by bands of clouds which spiral inward around the storm center.

"Now, as a direct result of Tiros, we have seen that spiral-banded cloud structure also exists around well-developed storms located outside of the tropics," Reichelderfer said.

"In these storms the bands are separated by clear areas and range in width from several miles to a few hundred miles."

He compared a picture of a storm 400 miles west of Ireland, televised April 2, which was not a tropical storm, with a tropical storm observed near New Zealand April 10.

In both cases, the cloud bands showed the circular wind flow around the storm's center.

"Thus far, storms observed over continents have not exhibited such pronounced banded structures as those over oceans," Reichelderfer said.

"The continental storms are associated with general cloud areas with the spaces between the bands either poorly defined or nonexistent, but the spiral nature of the storm is indicated more by the presence of a wedge of cloudless air curving in toward the storm's center behind a cold front, as shown by the Midwest storm of April 1."

Reichelderfer said systematic inspection of the 7,000 cloud pictures is just getting under way. He said that in the months ahead, the pictures are expected to reveal much new information about all sorts of atmospheric processes.

"Initial results from this one experimental satellite lead us to believe that a new era in meteorological observing is about to open to us," he said.

EMILY MALISKY, her face partly blackened by smoke, is assisted by a fireman at subway station in New York's downtown Manhattan. Fire Turns Subway Into Horror Spot

NEW YORK (UPI) — A fire turned a subway into a tunnel of horror early Friday. Nearly 100 choking and soot-smearing passengers formed a human chain to walk four blocks in the dark to safety with the help of heroic firemen.

At least 70 riders became ill from inhaling acrid smoke as they pounded on subway doors frantically in a 40-minute wait for help to come before they finally groped their way out.

Forty-three were treated at hospitals. The others were cared for at the scene, along with two firemen.

Two subway maintenance workers were credited with saving many lives by keeping passengers away from the high-voltage third rail as they left the four-car local train when it was stranded on Manhattan's lower east side.

STARTS IN GENERATOR

The fire broke out at 1:20 a.m. in a generator on a work train parked about 500 feet from the Astor Place station. A three-man work crew was replacing ballast around rails and ties with fresh gravel. The generator operated a conveyor belt that was moving the gravel.

Flames ate through the conveyor belt and caused short circuits that halted a passenger train alongside the work train. All the lights in the tunnel and on the trains went out.

The passengers were calm at first. But when smoke began pouring into the cars, women screamed and men called for help. Windows were smashed with fists as passengers tried to crawl out.

Guide Passengers

The train's conductor, James Jones, conferred with motorman Francis Koch. They decided not to risk walking through dense smoke only 500 feet to the nearest station and decided to guide the passengers four blocks to another station.

They lined the passengers up chain-gang style. They warned stumbling and choking men and women to keep clear of the electrified third rail. All stopped in their tracks until the power to the rail was turned off.

The grimy band then made for the exit and fresh air.

Murder Case Handling Leads Chief To Quit

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — The chief of the Illinois State Crime Division quit his job Friday in the face of mounting charges that the investigation of the triple murder at Starved Rock State Park had been bungled.

James Christensen, head of the division of identification and criminal investigation since 1950, said his resignation was prompted by criticism from state Public Safety Director Joseph D. Bibb.

Bibb, whose department covers the crime division and the state police, said Christensen told him he was quitting because he was "dissatisfied with publicity in the investigation" of the March 12 Starved Rock killings.

The bodies of three socially prominent Chicago area matrons were found lined up in a canyon cave in the central Illinois vacation spot.

Not Guilty Pleas Made By Planters

Not guilty pleas were entered by seven cotton planters in Fourth District Court to charges of violation of the pink bollworm quarantine and regulations, yesterday. Two other cases were passed who had been charged in warrants, and were not notified to appear in court.

All nine are charged with failure to comply with the deadline to plow under cotton stalks on or before January 1, as required by state laws.

Entering not guilty pleas were Lee Angling, Route 3, West Monroe; Nathaniel Briggs, Negro, Route 1, Choudrant; L. B. Hendricks, Route 3, West Monroe; Huey Leonard, Tony Bayou Road, West Monroe; Fred E. Parrott, Route 3, West Monroe; Robert L. Richardson, 309 Frederick street, Monroe; and J. S. Worsham, Route 3, West Monroe.

Cases which were passed to day included charges against Joe S. Dixon, 2205 Pargoud Blvd., Monroe, and Lorena Donahue, Post Office Box 333, West Monroe.

All were arrested on warrants signed by members of the state Department of Agriculture. In other action, Judge Jesse Heard sentenced a man, William Leon Allen, currently serving a sentence in Angola from another jurisdiction, to five years on each of three counts of simple burglary. The terms imposed today will run concurrently with the present one in Angola.

Ernest Allen Machen, McComb, Miss., man who was apprehended by Monroe city police in a crackdown on burglaries and attempted burglaries earlier this month, pleaded not guilty to four counts of simple burglary. He will be tried on May 20.

Also pleading not guilty and set for trial May 18 is a Negro man, Louis Champion, charged with simple burglary and attempted simple burglary.

Fined $300 and costs of court and sentenced to 125 days in jail was Maximino C. Martinez, Negro, 30, 1707 Wallace street, Monroe.

who pleaded guilty to being a second offender violator for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Fined $300 and costs of court were four persons charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. They were Alfred Henderson, 29, Negro, 803 Reed street, Monroe; John Henry Johnson, 24, Negro, Monroe; George Earl Kemp, 35, Houston; and Robert J. Lewis, 48, Monroe.

Purchase Told Of Newspaper In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, the city's only morning newspaper, Friday purchased the Hearst Newspapers' evening and Sunday Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph for an undisclosed amount.

The purchase was announced jointly by William Block, president and publisher of the Post-Gazette, and H. H. Kern, general manager of Hearst Newspapers.

The new combination, to be known as the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and Sun-Telegraph, will begin publication on April 25. The Post-Gazette at present has no Sunday edition.

Police Wait To Probe Into Calif. Murder

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Detectives waited outside a hospital room Friday to question a woman who said charges of infidelity drove her to kill her prominent husband with a hammer.

Martha Ann Taft, 30, lay unconscious and in critical condition, her wrists slashed and her body drugged by an overdose of tranquilizers.

Her husband, William Howard Taft, 38, an executive of Aerojet-General Corp., and reportedly a remote relative of the Ohio Taft family, was found dead in bed Thursday. His skull had been crushed.

Mrs. Taft was found unconscious in another room. Police said she left a note saying: "Six weeks ago I was attacked by a man I didn't know. I couldn't tell anyone, particularly Bill because he was so jealous."

"I finally told him, and he accused me of being unfaithful and began to beat on me."

"I couldn't stand it any longer. The note said she 'got up in the middle of the night,' got a hammer and 'hit him over and over and over.'"

"I loved him," Police booked her on suspicion of murder. A relative said Taft was a distant cousin of the late President William Howard Taft.

ON PUBLICITY PLAN

Group Chairman Joins In Assault

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House Freedom of Information subcommittee Friday joined the Air Force in an assault on a proposal to give the Pentagon broad control over defense industry advertising and publicity.

Rep. John F. Moss (D-Calif.) put out a statement saying that if the plan is put into effect "I fear it would do a great deal to prevent intelligent discussion of defense policies which may mean life or death to the United States."

At the same time, Moss accused Asst. Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder of seeking the powers of an advertising czar. Snyder, the Pentagon's information chief, would be responsible for enforcing the broadened clearance rules.

A draft order covering the subject was circulated among the military services last month, and the Air Force already has taken a formal stand against it.

The order would extend censorship authority, long exercised by the Defense Department over military security, to virtually all phases of advertising and promotional material by manufacturers working for the government.

It would prohibit defense contractors from publicizing their views about the relative merits of weapons, would ban discussion of military strategy or tactics and would forbid contractors from publicizing the economic impact of either receiving or losing defense contracts.

An Air Force staff study, backing up that service's disapproval of the directive, said that if it were issued it would provoke a frontal assault on Defense Department policy, start a rash of news leaks, and deny to defense contractors "the right of comment" on military matters.

Snyder told newsmen the germ of the idea behind the proposed directive came from criticisms made in January by Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) of the House Special Investigations subcommittee.

A Hebert committee report issued Jan. 4 hit at "dangerous and unhealthy" advertising by defense contractors and called on the Defense Department to establish guide lines and procedures to bring industry advertising under greater control.

The Air Force study contended the draft directive went far beyond the intent of Hebert's recommendation.

Snyder maintained he had not seen the draft for several weeks, that it undoubtedly was subject to change and that there is "no urgency, no emergency" to complete

Monroe Educators In S'port

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The curriculum of all schools, and methods for selecting college students—if that ever becomes necessary—should be determined on the community level, rather than on a national basis, according to a consensus of a panel discussion here Friday at the second day of the 37th annual convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Assn.

The panel dealt with the topic "Let's Look at the Curriculum." It agreed no students should be denied an opportunity for a higher education.

Panel members included Mrs. W. S. Vincent, Monroe teacher; Mrs. Byron Levy of New Orleans, school education chairman for Orleans Parish; and Dr. William Christmas, professor of education at Northeast State College.

The trio agreed curriculum at the primary level must include a thorough indoctrination in the traditional three R's, while providing children with a basic sense of values.

Secondary education in the modern schools should include vocational, education and academic programs with subject matter in college planned to meet the personal needs of the advanced student, they said.

"The problems of most college students result from inadequate high school preparation as a result of lack of foresight on the part of both youngsters and parents," Dr. Christmas said.

"I don't feel, however, that any high school graduate should be prevented from entering college," he said.

Participants in the panel said that often children decide late in their high school careers to continue their education. Many of them have taken vocational courses primarily, and are unable to enter many colleges or universities, they told delegates.

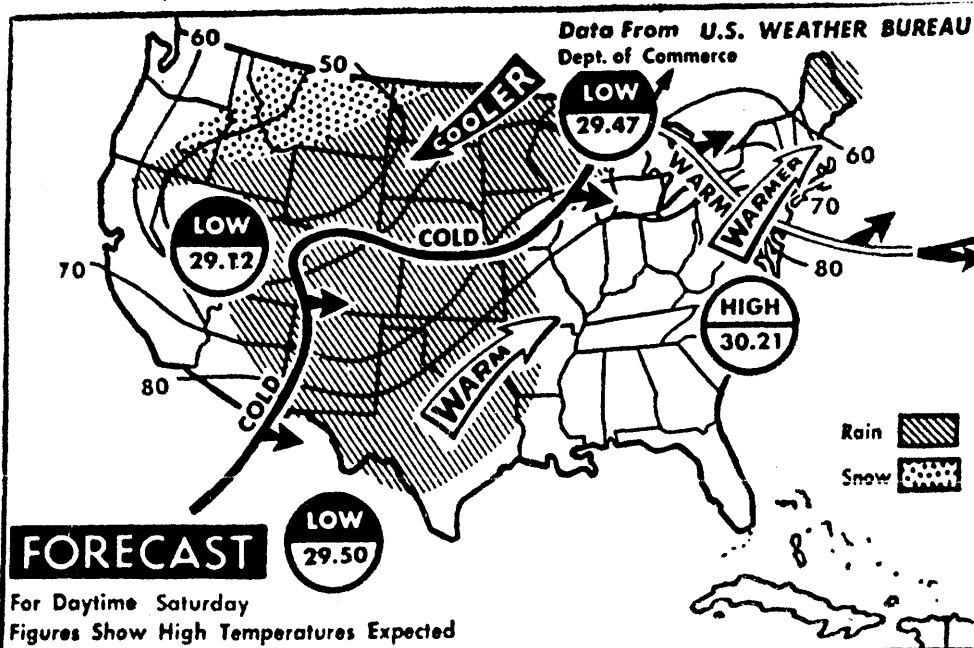

The group agreed a tremendous amount of time and money are wasted on college students who are not equipped for further education, but that there is no accurate means of determining which ones should be eliminated.

They compared the American educational system with that of the British and said that the people must make a decision if only the elite are to be educated.

In another discussion, a group of local teen-agers cited insecurity at home and the social ineptness as factors in high school marriages.

Caddo Parish Juvenile Judge Chris Barnett served as moderator for the panel.

Mrs. H. A. Cory of Shreveport, state program chairman, commented that under rules of the Caddo Parish school board, married students cannot engage in extra-curricular activities at the schools or hold elective offices.

Democratic Bid On Aged Care Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration turned down Friday a Democratic compromise to give the nation's aged a choice between higher cash benefits or hospitalization insurance under the Social Security Program.

The proposal, advanced in an attempt to push a medical care program through Congress this session, was rejected by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Flemming, appearing before a closed session of the House Ways & Means Committee, said social security tax increases ranging from 2.3 per cent to 11 per cent would be required to finance such an approach.

Following the meeting, the secretary told newsmen the administration is "opposed" to adding hospitalization care to the Social Security Program, even on an elective basis.

Wallace St. was fined $300 and costs, or 60 days, plus 125 days compulsory in the parish jail, on a charge of second offense, driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages.

Robert E. Parker, 39, West Monroe, denied two charges: disturbing the peace and resisting an officer. He is to be tried May 12.

Two men were arraigned and pled innocent to charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages, and driving without an operator's license. Ben F. Price Jr., 33, 3401 S. Grand St. is to be tried June 10, while Chester F. Smith, 46, Route 3, Box 249, Rayville, is scheduled for trial June 24.

Six were charged with disturbing the peace: Herman Columbus Robinson, 22, Route 1, Box 140 R., Coushatta, trial May 13;

Rhea M. Rogers, 39, and George E. Rogers Jr., 43, both of Route 1, Springfield, James K. Phillips, 39, Route 3, Box 123, West Monroe and Willie R. Burns, 49, 201 Jones St., Rayville, each fined $25 and costs or 10 days;

Thomas Leander Wallace, 27, Route 3, Box 193, Swartz, trial June 10.

Crossett Gas, Water Projects Set For June

CROSSETT (Special) — Initial construction on the North Crossett gas and water improvement projects is expected to begin in June, Tom Norsworthy, chairman of the district, said.

An announcement followed word from Washington Friday that a $419,000 federal loan had been approved for the construction of water facilities for the area. This followed an announcement earlier that a federal loan in the amount of $138,000 had been approved for the gas project.

The loan was approved by the United States community facilities administration, and is for Ashley County's water and fire protection district number one, which is the North Crossett area.

The project will include two deep wells, pumps and pumping stations, a storage tank, a distribution system with fire hydrants and a metered water service.

The next step in the program, according to Billy Switzer, attorney for the improvement district, calls for a meeting about May 1st between government officials, officers of the district and the contractors at Fort Worth, Texas, when final details will be worked out and agreed on.

Specific requirements to be met by the district will be set out at that meeting, Switzer said. At present it is not known just what meter deposit will be required of each property owner, the attorney said; however, he thought "about $10" would be the amount.

"This is not final and will have to be decided by the district board," Switzer said.

McNEESE HERE TODAY

Redden, Yerger Sparkle As Indians Whip SLI, 7-6

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Emerging from the Gulf States Conference cellar with a flourish, Northeast's awakening Indians drew new life on a game-tying grand slam home run by Levy Redden, then notched the winning run on Mickey Yerger's two-out double in the ninth inning to outslug Southwestern, 7-6, here Friday in the first of three weekend league games.

Resting in fifth place after yesterday's come-from-behind victory, the Indians face fourth-place McNeese in a doubleheader this afternoon at 1:30 on the Northeast diamond. A pair of hard-throwing freshmen, left-hander Jerry Godwin and right-hander Bobby Lockwood, have been handed the Tribe pitching assignments.

Snapping out of a season-long slump that saw his average plummet to .063, Yerger, a former LeVelle prepster, hammered a two-base hit down the right field line to drive in Redden with the game-busting run after two were out in the ninth and relief pitcher Ellis Vincent had threatened to bar the door.

Redden, whose earlier heroics — a bases-loaded circuit climb over the left field fence in the sixth run on three hits and an intentional walk. In came Collins. He retired Perry Penton on an infield fly and got Ron Darte on a short fly to center which Redden caught on the run to wiggle out of the jam.

Vincent, who completed a pretty fair day with four hits at the plate, was the losing pitcher. He got starter Wally Kenny off the hook after Redden's four-bagger in the fifth inning and permitted only one run — the decisive one — over the final 4-3 frames.

Southwestern assumed a quick 1-0 margin in the second inning. Former West Monrovia Shelby Auds worked Rouse for a free pass to open the inning. Tom

Boyer beat a bunt to advance the runner to second base. In the sixth, Lopez led off with the score and hurled scoreless, 100-foot homer into the visiting bullpen in left field. Mantle

Cole Paces Tribe Victory Over SLI

LAFAYETTE, La. (Special) — Freshman Clayton Cole carded nine birdies enroute to a four-under-par 68 to lead Northeast's golf team to a 9½ to 8½ victory over a surprisingly strong Southwestern team here Friday.

In setting a Northeast record for the most birdies in one match, was under par on four holes on the front nine and shaved par on five holes on the second nine.

Cole and former high school mate Jim Harper regained their winning ways as a two-man team by defeating SLI's Chuck Palmer and Cordell Hebert. The hot-swinging twosome have been beaten only once in six meets.

Played on the 6,078-yard Oakbourne Country Club course, the match produced an amazing display of golf. In addition to Cole's sizzling 68, three Southwestern players turned in subpar 71s — and still lost.

Dave McClane and Robert Bass of the hosts each shot a 71 to defeat Northeast's Larry Tilley and Gene Adams in individual play, but the Indian linksmen turned the tables in a team match with a 2½ to 1½ victory.

Tilley registered the day's only eagle on the par five No. 7 hole. Both four-man teams averaged even par 72.

Bob DeMoss' Northeast squad, now with a record of five wins against a single loss, engage Centenary at Shreveport Friday.

The summary: Clayton Cole (35-33-68), Northeast, defeated Chuck Palmer (38-37-75), SLI, 3-0.

Cordell Hebert (37-34-71), SLI, defeated Jim Harper (36-36-74), Northeast, 3-0.

Cole and Harper defeated Palmer and Hebert, 3-0.

Robert Bass (36-35-71), SLI, defeated Larry Tilley (37-36-73), Northeast, 2½-1½.

Dave McClane (35-36-71), SLI, defeated Gene Adams (38-35-73), Northeast, 2½-1½.

Tilley and Adams defeated Bass and McClane, 2½-1½.

Home Runs Lift A's Past Indians

By FRANK CRAWFORD

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Norm Siebern and Bob Cerv hit consecutive home runs Friday and started the Kansas City Athletics toward a 4-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians in this city's American League opening.

Ray Herbert, Kansas City right-hander, limited the Indians to five scattered hits as they went down to their third straight defeat.

Tito Francona doubled off Herbert in the second inning and scored on Russ Nixon's single to give Cleveland a 1-0 lead. Then Siebern led off the home half of the inning with a tremendous clout off starter and loser Wynn Hawkins that cleared the center field fence at the 421-foot mark. Cerv followed with his blast, a wind-blown shot over the left center field barrier.

Cerv drove in another run in the third inning when he hit the center field fence for a triple with singling Jerry Lumpe on base. Cerv also scored when Harry Chitt followed with a double to center. After Hawkins walked Bob Johnson, Dick Stigman came in to pitch for Cleveland. He hurled hitless ball through the fifth when he went out for a pinch hitter and Bob Tiefenauer and Johnny Briggs finished.

Tigers Take 6-5 Win Over Chisox

DETROIT (AP) — A record-opening-day crowd of 53,563 jammed Briggs Stadium Friday and thrilled with every pitch as the Detroit Tigers edged the defending champion Chicago White Sox 6-5 on a two-out, ninth inning single by Lou Berberet.

The chunky catcher lined one of Bob Shaw's pitches into center field with the bases loaded. The hit scored Al Kaline from third base and provided Detroit with its first opening day triumph at home since 1954.

Neville Choice In Twin Cities Meet

Neville—the only entry with a track of its own—is a heavy favorite to successfully defend its title in the second annual Twin Cities Relays at Brown Stadium this afternoon.

George Davis' Tiger trackmen, fresh from a good showing in the Northwestern Relays, are favored to win seven of the events in the meet, sponsored this year by the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The meet gets underway at 1:30 this afternoon with field events. The first track event, the 330 relay, will be run at 6 o'clock.

Neville finished fifth in a field of 11 in the AA division of the NSC Relays and its three relay foursomes each finished third in special events during the college meet Thursday night.

West Monroe led by shot putter Larry Danna and the Van Zile brothers, is expected to give Neville its strongest competition. Ouachita and Southside will also be entered.

Ouachita was second to Neville last year. Neville scored 89½ points and Ouachita 54. Southside was third with 52½ and West Monroe last with 16.

No admission will be charged for the meet. Following is a list of events, records and probable contenders:

Pole Vault — Paul Hopgood of West Monroe has cleared 10 feet this year and could break the record of 10-0 set by Neville's Jay Goldsmith.

Broad Jump — No strong entries here. Goldsmith holds record of 20-2½.

Shot Put — Neville's Mickey Cox set the record of 45-5½, and will be back. Danna, however, has been the Neville ace in their last two meetings and will be favored.

Javelin — No contest here. Joe Cagg, holder of the record of 192-7, should win easily. He hit 200-6 at the Neville Relays.

Discus — Cox holds the record of 127-4½ and hit 143 at Northwestern this week.

Hop, Step and Jump — Oscar Matthews of Southside holds the record of 38-11 with another Southsider, Raymond Dingle, figured as the top entry.

330 Relay — Ouachita has record of 3:50.0.

220 Dash — This one's strictly in the family. Charley Van Zile has run distance in 23.2 and older brother Jimmy in 23.3. Neville's Gene Howard holds record of 24.2.

130 Hurdles — Three-way duel forsen between Jimmy Van Zile of West Monroe and Joe Turner and Don Brant of Neville. Southside's Don Word holds record of 22.5. Turner has run 21.3 but on straightaway.

Yanks Blank Orioles, 5-0, As Hurlers Extend String

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitey Ford maintained his opening day mastery as the New York Yankees blanked the Baltimore Orioles 5-0 Friday before 35,645 spectators, largest inaugural crowd at Yankee Stadium since 1952.

Ford failed to go the distance, retiring after seven innings, but Young Ralph Terry preserved the shutout, New York's second in succession. He hurled two scoreless innings to extend the Yankees' consecutive shut-out string to 19 innings.

The Yankees rapped three Baltimore pitchers for nine hits, including home runs by Mickey Mantle and Hector Lopez. It was the first of the season for each. Ford drove in a run with a single and Cletis Boyer knocked in two with a single and a long sacrifice fly.

Ford permitted seven of Baltimore's eight hits, walked one and hit against the Yankees Sept. 20, 1958, and whipped them three times last year, was the Baltimore starter and loser. The veteran knuckleballer hurled six innings and was tagged for all but one of the Yankee runs. Rookie John Anderson retired the Yankees in order in the seventh and Arnie Portocarrero yielded a run on two hits in the eighth.

Ford broke up a scoreless duel in the third with a center field single that scored Tony Kubek who had doubled. Willie Tasby's throw to the plate had the runner beaten but it was wide of the mark, allowing Kubek to score.

Mantle increased the Yankees' lead to 2-0 in the fourth when he connected with a knuckle ball and sent a towering drive into the third deck in right field.

In the sixth, Lopez led off with a 400-foot homer into the visiting bullpen in left field. Mantle walked, stole second as Roger Maris struck out, and scored on Boyer's single. Boyer had taken over at third base in the second inning for Andy Carey, who suffered a dizzy spell. The latter had been sidelined for a few days by a virus.

Boyer came within a foot of clearing the left field fence with his eighth inning sacrifice fly that drove in Ken Hunt with the Yankees' final tally. New York had loaded the bases on singles by Hunt and Moose Skovron, sandwiched around a walk to Mantle.

The defeat was the third straight for the Orioles following their opening day victory against Washington.

Rayville Wins 2-A Crown By Mauling Delhi

RAYVILLE, La. (Special)—Rayville decisively settled the district 2-A baseball race here Friday by mauling Delhi, 24-5, in an abbreviated playoff game.

Larry McGowan and Don Semm paced Frazier Bailey's Hornets to victory in the game, halted after five innings by mutual agreement, with 3-3 each. Hodge O'Neal, Delwyn Peters and Stuart Dyer got two hits each for the winners. McKay led Delhi with 2-3.

Tied for the district lead with Delhi going into the game, Rayville scored one in the first, but Delhi chased Dyer from the mound with five runs in the top of the second. The Hornets scored seven in their half of the second to put the game on ice while reliever Ed Quimby kept Delhi at bay.

Delhi and Rayville had traded 3-1 decisions in their first two games.

Wertz Slams Homer As Sox Tip Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vic Wertz slammed a home run into the left field stands to give Boston an 11-inning, 3-4 victory over Washington Friday night.

Boston twice came from behind to tie the score in the American League thriller before the left-handed hitting slugger socked his opposite field home run.

The 16,707 fans saw Washington jump into a 3-0 lead with one run in the first inning and two in the third as Bob Allison drove in the first two runs and scored the third on a single by Jim Lemon.

Allison cracked three singles and a double in five official at bats to boost his batting average to .391. He has 13 hits in 22 trips and has hit in each of Washington's five games.

Rookie left-hander Jim Kaat blanked the Red Sox on three hits until the eighth when Boston tied the score 3-3 on doubles by Pete Runnels and Don Buddin and Frank Malone's home run.

In the last of the eighth Red Sox first baseman Ron Jackson led Dan Doherty's grounder get through for an error. A sacrifice moved Doherty to second and Don Mincher chased him home with a single.

Boston tied it in the ninth on singles by Lou Clinton and Gary Geiger and Ray Webster's sacrifice fly.

In the last of the ninth, Allison walked with one out and moved to second as Harmon Killebrew grounded out. Doherty was intentionally walked. Earl Battey then struck out to force the game into extra innings.

Questions And Answers Guide For Homemakers

By BETTY PEPIS

Q. I want to buy two matching chairs for my living room, do both these chairs have to be upholstered in the same color? My walls are light blue, rug is medium blue and sofa is black and white tweed. I need something to live up this room and have thought of cold, tangerine, or coral for the chairs.

A. Though identical chairs are usually upholstered alike, they need not necessarily be. You could have one chair in royal blue and the other in tangerine. I would like the same fabric for both, nylon velvet would be a good choice. The tangerine should be repeated so that it is part of the whole scheme rather than an isolated spot. Red lacquer bowls and boxes on tables would accomplish this.

Q. I plan to re-paper my living room, which is small and has only one window. I have a brown and beige tufted rug and French Provincial furniture. The sofa is champagne and club chairs are red. What wall color should I select which will create an illusion of more space?

A. The best color to lighten and enlarge your room would be the pale champagne of your sofa. The new vinyl-coated wallpapers make pale walls practical. Draperies in a pale champagne would keep your background neutral and refreshing. You need brilliance in small accessories to keep the room from being too bland.

Mrs. A. M. Kite, president of the club, turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Mrs. H. E. Rivers, who introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. George Snellings Jr., who gave a talk on titled "Legal Aspects of Christ's Trial."

Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Leroy Munion, Mrs. P. N. Edwards, Mrs.

winter public games in Reggio di Calabria, Italy, opposing teams used oranges, lemons and citrons for ammunition in mock battles predating Mack Sennett's picture throwing scenes by several centuries.

Today's citrus fruit would make quite a splash if similarly used. And the choice of varieties is far greater than that available to medieval cooks, who were the first to use citrus fruit for seasoning meat and fish.

Current American varieties include Valencia oranges, named for their native Spanish province and the U. S. favorite, navel oranges, preferred for eating out of hand. Hamlin and Parson Browns, named for owners of groves where they're grown, pineapple oranges, large and a deep orange color; burgundy grapefruit, so-called because of their deep color; tangerines, the "zipper skin fruit"; and tangelos, a grapefruit-tangerine hybrid.

The future lies in convenience foods, such as improved concentrates, dehydrated pure orange juice already in the experimental stage and frozen orange sections, currently in test markets, said a commission spokesman.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mother Unsympathetic With Irritable Child

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When a child is worn-out to a lovely boy and yet I have trouble the mother unconsciously she may be getting along with him.
build up a case against him, and at each stage of his growth think that the same behavior has gone on forever.

Mrs. S.S.S. feels that since birth her oldest has been irritable and stubborn, though seldom spank. But unhappy. She writes: "Dear Mrs.
Eldred: He is the oldest of four children, and three were reasonably children, cooperative and well behaved."

He was beautiful and bright, but never did he respond to cuddling.
He worked at 10 months, fed himself at eight months, talked fluently at two years. He is very jealous of his 6-year-old sister, though he was well prepared for her coming and was not neglected.

FEELS NEGLECTED
"At eight he still seems to feel himself neglected and rejected though he has more attention than all three of the children put together. He has always been, and still is, a fearful child though we have tried our best to allay his fears and anxieties. He gets along out of sympathy with him. Right at the moment he is very
in school, church and Cub Scouts, much of an 8-year-old in behavior
I am constantly being told, 'What —devoted to you, a dog-at-heel

amplitude which is very annoying to you. He is eager to excel and is unhappy if he does not.

His tears are a carry-over from his recent past but some of these tears are inspired by his desire to be all things to you—and to everyone else—and his recognition that he is not. He never quite measures up to his own high standards.

I think it would make you feel better, and maybe uncover some of your own antagonism if you would consult a psychologist or a Family Social Service agency or a Child Guidance Clinic. The last person to be able to see her own role in this boy's behavior, is you yourself. You should both profit by this clarification of your own emotions.

If you would like to have our leaflet "How To Be A Good Parent" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 66 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

SEEING DOUBLE

CHICAGO UPI — Three out of every four homes built by 1970 will have more than one bathroom, predicts the Illinois Association of Plumbing Contractors.
The trend toward two baths is expected to coincide with the trend toward two cars in every garage and two TV sets in every home.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Most People Respond To Kindness, Interest

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers You performed a national service by printing the letter signed "Phooey on Kids At Fancy Parties." This has been the cause of many big fights in our family and you have settled the matter once and for all.

The last explosion occurred when my cousin had a bridal shower. An idiot relative brought her three roughnecks. The home where the party was being given was small. The mother had no control over her children and they took that house apart.

They opened every drawer and cupboard, stepped on everybody's shoes then started the familiar wailing and nagging routine, characteristic of all tired youngsters.

In order to pacify them, their MOTHER gave them permission to help the bride open her gifts.
Those kids spoiled the party for everyone. Your column appeared the next day. I wonder how many clippings the idiot mother got in the mail!—BUFF

years ago. We have two children under 14 who like it here.
I feel we are not "accepted."
I have dropped out of church activities and clubs because I know a cold shoulder when I see one.
My neighbors are disagreeable and unfriendly. I've stopped speaking to them.

The people my husband works with used to be hospitable and nice when we first moved here, but they've become indifferent. I refuse to run after them for their company.

My husband disagrees with me.
He's good-natured, insensitive and nothing bothers him. I'm miserable and cry all the time, but he gives me no sympathy or understanding. He doesn't want to move, and suggests that I see a doctor. Help me.—OCEANS OF TEARS

Dear Oceans: Moving to another city would solve nothing.

You'd take your troubles right along, because the real problem is YOU.

Your husband's advice is excellent. See a doctor. Get your physical batteries recharged then go to work on the mental ones.
People everywhere respond to friendliness, kindness, and above all, an interest in THEM. When you turn sour on friends over trifles, real or imagined, then sit around and cry because you're alone, don't expect people to line up and offer handkerchiefs—because they won't. What you see in others is a reflection of yourself.

Thanks for the picture of your daughter. In my opinion she's right. Give her permission to have it done.

BLOSSOMTIME, that's what spring should be, says Mr. John, whose "Second Empire" collection features fake flowers arranged riotously on transparent lattice-like straws with a Bacchanalian effect. Above left is his "Toast to Beauty," a cloche in Belvedere beige, covered in chrysanthemum petals and ombred silk leaves. At right, a profile cloche made principally of two giant silk roses in Riviera gold.

CLOTHES MAKE YOUR MAN

Could Be Tactful About Suggesting Wider Brim

By HARRY JUSTER
DEAR MR. JUSTER: My husband who is stocky and has a full, round face came home with one of these hats that has practically no brim. He asked my opinion of it. I told him that if he thought some of the hats worn by women were odd, he should take a good look in the mirror. Then he got mad and wouldn't speak to me all evening. Why does a man ask for an opinion and then pout when you try to give him a truthful answer? I was right; wasn't I?

Mrs. R.C.
Sometimes the unadulterated truth is hard to take. Mix a little honey with it. You might have said something like this, "It's nice, but wouldn't a little wider brim be better for you?" Which is actually what he needs.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: I don't wish to appear stuffy and old-fashioned, but I must confess to quite a bit of confusion about all the colors being thrown at us men.

What's correct? Black, charcoal, olive, gold or green? Wouldn't men be better off leaving the plumage shades to the women and staying to the old shades like navy, brown and gray?

A Conservative.
There's nothing wrong with the good old shades. Nothing wrong with the new ones either. Why should the wearing of attractive colors be a monopoly of the opposite sex? The soft olives, burnished browns and iridescent shadings being featured are plenty masculine. They provide a fresh, welcome change from the old standbys — navy, brown and gray.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Do you have anything in print stressing the need for neatness and good grooming for making friends and "going up" on the job?

M.K.
Yes ... Hundreds of words every week in this paper.

TIP FOR THE DAY
Which Model Gets Your Vote?
There are as many clothing styles as political candidates vying for your favor. You may be a natural for the natural shoulder model, look sophisticated in the continental, or bring out your best points in a trim lounge style. Check carefully. Choose the one that promises to do the most for you.

Mr. Juster will be glad to answer your questions. He also has a booklet, "Guide to Better Dress" which includes a color chart, physical proportions chart, and many tips for improving appearance. The booklet is available free. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope to Harry Juster in care of The World.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

WEN REMOVAL

There are many types of tumors and the lowly wen is one of the humblest of the lot. But like some shy, subservient people — these growths become troublesome occasionally. The skin contains innumerable glands, including those that produce oil. They are adjacent to hair follicles and their ducts empty into the channels created by the growing hairs. In bald areas, they open directly on the surface of the skin. These sebaceous glands are found in all parts of the body except on the palms of the hands and soles of the feet.

A wen, or sebaceous cyst, develops after the opening of an oil gland becomes clogged with dirt, injured, or obstructed with dried secretions. The gland continues to produce oil but the fatty material accumulates inside because it cannot escape. In time, a firm but elastic, painless cyst develops. If there is a minor opening in the lesion, the cheesylike material may seep out and give off a rancid odor. Wens seldom form below the waistline. Favorite sites are the scalp, face, behind the ears, on the back of the neck, between the shoulders, and on either side of the spinal column. They should be removed if they are sizable, are enlarging, or are irritated by the comb or shoulder straps. Occasionally they become infected but rarely cancerous.

The tissues around the cheesy secretion develop a membranous sac or pocket to hold the material. This sac must be eliminated to obtain permanent results. Removal by surgery is done most often.

Some dermatologists make a small opening over the sac, squeeze out the contents, and remove the cyst lining by scraping. Others tease out the entire cyst thru a small opening. Sometimes wens are destroyed by cauterizing the contents thru a tiny opening and injecting an antiseptic or painting the inner lining with a caustic chemical.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

COUGHING AND SNEEZING

J.S. writes: When I go to bed at night I feel like I'm sneezing and I cough and cough. So I have to sit in a chair to sleep. Could this be due to the pollen when I have?

REPLY

No. These symptoms are more likely to come from a heart or lung disorder. Good remedies are available for shortness of breath.

"WEAK KIDNEYS"

W.D.C. writes: Is frequent urination a sign of weak kidneys?

REPLY

No. I thought this oldie went out with World War I. Frequency of urination is more likely to be associated with a bladder or a nervous disorder unless the kidneys are so strong they work overtime. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leader on urinary disorders.

SITE OF CHEST PAIN

C.L. writes: Is it worse to have pain on the left or the right side of the chest?

REPLY

This depends upon the cause. The site of pain wouldn't make much difference if a lung cancer were responsible. Heart pain usually is centered.

TB IN MIDDLE LIFE

R.S. writes: Can a person over 50 contract tuberculosis for the first time?

REPLY

Yes, even tho the disease is more common in younger persons.

SKIN CANCER

Mrs. C.S. writes: What can I do on my mother's skin cancer to cure it?

REPLY

Put on her hat and coat and take her to see a physician. These lesions are removed by radiation or surgery.

Today's Health Hint: Softer muscles may mean hard arteries.

Vice President Nixon is considering a plan to run on a platform which would reduce Federal income taxes on individuals by raising the tariff on imports. President Eisenhower is opposed to the idea, feeling it is a reflection on his administration, and has made the Vice President aware of his strong opinion on the matter. Very "inside" insiders in Republican circles believe the revival of enthusiasm in the Nelson Rockefeller camp was the direct result of whispered information on the policy rift between Ike and Dick.

Two Hearts Found In Young Girl

PARIS (UPI)—For the first 16 years of her life, Carmela de Felice has led a quite existence—almost immobile at times.

She complained frequently of tiredness and chest pains. Doctors in Italy told her parents she would outgrow the symptoms.

But as she got older the pains got worse. Then she moved to France with her father, a house painter, and mother. They took her to French doctors and three months ago came the startling disclosure.

Carmela had been born with two hearts.

Officials at Saint Germaine-en-Laye Hospital said they knew of no parallel to the case.

The hearts are located on either side of the girl's body with a total of five aortas, or blood pumping outlets—three on the right and two on the left. A normal heart has one aorta.

Clifford David, the actor who played the poet in "Caligula," had to have a permanent wave before he opened in the ill-fated drama, because the producers couldn't envision a poet with straight hair. He also had to have his moped dyed black, because the management didn't believe in brownette rhymenters. So once the show closed, he sneaked into Lilly Dache's beauty salon (for ladies) after hours, and had Mr. Kenneth un-dye and un-kink him. (Clue: the same chemicals that curl hair straightens it.)

Value Sense In America Is Termed Wrong

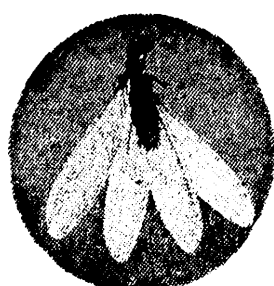

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Some thing is wrong with America's sense of values when Elvis Presley can make more money for "several songs and hip-wiggles" than most teachers earn in a lifetime, a state official said Friday.

School superintendent Thomas D. Bailey said he understands Presley gets $125,000 for a guest appearance on a television program.

"If we are to retain and select teachers who are dedicated to the tasks ahead, the people of America will have to re-evaluate their sense of values," he told the annual convention of the Florida Education Assn.

Bailey devoted his talk to a discussion of school needs in what he called the "searching 60's." Too frequently, he said, teachers are actually "subsidizing" the luxuries of the families they serve by the low salaries they get.

He made no specific recommendations for increased teacher pay, but said, "we must work toward the day when teachers' salaries are high enough to attract to teaching those individuals who can meet the challenges of teaching in a new era."

RETAIL SALES UP

Retail sales this Easter week

rose 12 to 15 percent above the level of last year when the holiday fell two weeks earlier, and dollar

volume was also "appreciably"

higher than that of the 1959 Easter week, Dun & Bradstreet reported Friday.

At the same time the Federal Reserve Board reported that department store sales rose to a new high in the week ended

April 18 and smash all records for an Easter week.

TO CLOSE DEPARTMENTS

Winning Steel Corp. said it will close down the "major production departments" at its Benwood, W.

Va., pipe works next week for an indefinite period, adding more than 1,000 workers. The company blamed the shutdown on a "combination of severe winter weather and heavy demands from foreign markets.

RAISE AUTO OUTPUT

An action plan for the contract

union will help raise this week's auto output nine per cent above output last week, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

Output production was estimated at 44,200 units which would surpass the previous record of 40,

700 by six per cent. This will account for about 20.4 per cent of total industry output.

TO SUSPEND TRADING

NEW YORK (UPI) — The

board of governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted to suspend trading in the common stock of Cornell-Dubilier Electric

Corp. effective at the May 2 opening. The exchange said the number of shareholders and the amount of outstanding stock has dropped below levels considered necessary to maintain an adequate market.

TO DISMANTLE PLANT

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Union

Oil Co. of California announced

it will dismantle its pilot plant near Grand Valley, Colo., built two years ago at a cost of $9 million together with research facilities. The plant has been extracting crude oil from shale,

but the depressed price of crude and the lack of picture have made the process uneconomical, a spokesman explained.

TO SUPPLY GENERATOR

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UPI) —

General Electric Co. will supply

the Tennessee Valley Authority with a 650,000 kilowatt turbo-generator at a cost of $16,250,000, it was announced. The generator is

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton

utures closed unchanged to 30 cents a bale higher Friday.

News of substantial sales of print cloths in the cotton textile market for delivery in the second half of the year stimulated demand for futures. The textile market has been quiet since the first of the year, following a heavy buying movement in late 1959.

Traders continued to close out

contracts in nearby May futures

prior to first notice day for that delivery on Monday. There was some switching from nearby July to October 1960 delivery.

The Census Bureau reported

domestic consumption in March totalled 333,329 running bales

(which was under trade expectations of about 315,000).

WALL STREET VIEWS

Steel Stocks May Come Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel stocks, out of vogue now that they are near their 1960 lows, should stage a revival in the next few months, a Wall Street analyst says.

The opinion was advanced by Schroeder Boulton of the investment firm, Goodbody & Co. "Steel production seldom is exactly equal to steel consumption; usually inventories are being accumulated or cut back," he commented.

"With a phase of inventory accumulation coming to an end, we expect steel activity to drop to 70 per cent or below, a rate which would involve some using up of inventories."

"Either at the low point or shortly before the low is reached, liquidating pressure on the steel stocks will ease. Fresh buying interest will almost surely be favorable. Such was the experience in 1957-58."

Boulton says a reassuring earnings performance is expected of the major integrated steel companies this year and that there will be favorable competitive results from intense efforts to lower the basic costs of steelmaking.

"Therefore," he concludes, "we believe that as steel activity veers toward a probable low late this quarter or during the third quarter, investors would be well advised to look with renewed interest at steel stocks, now so unpopular, but so very popular only a few months ago."

Brokers are pleased that good earnings prospects of companies are being reflected in individual stocks. Dow Jones financial news service reports.

"Leadership of the list generally is considered much improved by these sources," it said.

"The fact that the reaction was brought to a halt before serious damage had been done to the price structure indicated that the price could be held within normal corrective bounds."

"Consensus is that any pickup in turnover on further price improvement would quickly restore investor confidence and indicate that a typical spring rise is not necessarily a lost cause."

A. M. Kidder & Co. says the market's loss this week of the gains of nine preceding sessions "suggests that the April 4 closing low of 613.51 for the Dow Jones industrial average and the absolute low of 613 will be given an early testing."

More Women Losing Hair

CHICAGO (AP)—More women are complaining that they are losing their hair today than five years ago—but the country's leading skin and scalp experts can pinpoint neither cause nor cure.

The cause could be hard nylon brushes, or spray sets, or pregnancy, or worry, or scalp-tightening coiffures, or food, or surgery, or infectious diseases, says an article in the American Medical Assn.'s Archives of Dermatology.

The treatment might be steady, gentle washing with pure soap, or abstinence from hair-stretching curlers, or avoidance of pony tails, or just plain waiting it out, the article says.

Three New York dermatologists—skin specialists—include a steady note in their report on female hair loss—technically known as "diffuse alopecia."

The chance of a woman becoming totally or even alarmingly bald, they say, is slim. The chance of the trend becoming a dangerous one is equally slim. And the chance of the disturbing patches of scalp regaining their covering after a while is good.

The dermatologists—Drs. Marion B. Sulzberger, Victor H. Witten and Alfred W. Kopf—noted the increase in their own practice. They sent questionnaires to the 170 members of the American Dermatological Assn. of 106 replies, statistics were culled.

About 33 per cent of the doctors reported an increase of diffuse alopecia. Thirty per cent reported no increase. The rest were uncertain, or did not report.

The average age of patients who reported losing their hair was 39½ years. But hair loss was reported from 15 to 70.

Only a few characteristics seemed to prevail in all cases. The loss occurred only on the scalp, not in other areas of the body. Growth of hair was not excessive. The hair tended to be oily and to lose its luster. The thinning spots were concentrated at the crown of the head or toward the front.

While convinced that diffuse alopecia was on the upswing, the authors noted other factors which might account for the increase in complaints.

It could simply reflect, they pointed out, the latest in hair-care advertising, smaller hat styles, better financial means for correcting these "less serious complaints" or a greater reliance on specialists today than five years ago.

Similar increases in hair loss were reported from Italy and France.

FOR THIS "SENSIBLE" SIZE 21" ROTARY

WHY WE SAY "SENSIBLE" SIZE

21" is the logical size to lessen the chances of crankshaft bending so prevalent in overwidth 23" and 24" direct drive rotaries. 21" makes pushing possible in heavy grass (just try pushing a 24" jumbo in some tall grass and you will see what we mean). 21" has the power to cut tall grass, doesn't stall like the overwidth jumbos.
